Aguas de Fuensanta commissioned a series of designs to be printed on 75 cl. glass bottles and sold in restaurants and gourmet shops. Fuensanta's origin is linked to the nature, so the project aimed at imitating mother nature's way: if a glass bottle were left in a green forest, vegetation would wrap itself around the bottle and that's what the design. This is the first design of the series, printed in May 2008 in three colours, two green tones and a white for typography.
