

MONOPOLY REPACKAGING

Properties list:

- opaque
- information about use
- end-user packaging
- single product
- update
- box
- cardboard and paper
- identity by pictograms

From Andy Mangold website: "Monopoly, in spite being the classiest of all board games, unfortunately is packaged just as boringly and uncreatively as every other garbage board game on the shelves. So, I decided to repackage it... turning the class up to 11. All of the boxes are made out of chocolate brown mat board and skinned in cream arches cover. The final package is just over 10" x 10" x 1.5" and includes smaller containers for all of the various pieces and cards and a laser-cut holder for all of the houses and hotels."

Reference: <http://www.andymangold.com/monopoly-repackaging/>

Credits:

Country: USA

Other images:

